REQUESTING RECORDS

Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notification and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifiers, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required, to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES

Certain blanket 'routine uses' of the records have been established, that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense, unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the records are published below, only once in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundancy, before the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every individual record system.

ROUTINE USE - LAW ENFORCEMENT

In the event that a system of records maintained by this component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE WHEN REQUESTING INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a federal, state or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE OF REQUESTED INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to a federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

ROUTINE USE - CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRIES

Disclosure from a system of records maintained by this component may be made to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual.

ROUTINE USE WITHIN THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to other components of the Department of Defense if necessary and relevant for the performance of a lawful function such as, but not limited to, personnel actions, personnel security actions and criminal investigations of the Component requesting the record.

ROUTINE USE - PRIVATE RELIEF LEGISLATION

Relevant information contained in all systems of records of the Department of Defense published on or before August 22, 1975, will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURES REQUIRED BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS

A record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to foreign law enforcement, security, investigatory, or administrative authorities in order to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred in international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of Department of Defense military and civilian personnel.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITIES

Any information normally contained in IRS Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to State and local taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements pursuant to Title 5, U.S.Code, Sections 5516, 5517, 5520, and only to those State and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member is or was subject to tax regardless of whether tax is or was withheld. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin Nr. 76-07.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO THE OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

A record from a system of records subject to the Privacy Act and maintained by this component may be disclosed to the Office of Personnel Management concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deductions, and any other information necessary for the Office of Personnel Management to carry out its legally authorized Government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO NARS (GSA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Service of the General Services Administration in records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

All systems of records relating to compensation, employment or retirement, or extracts therefrom, maintained by this Component may be disclosed as a routine use to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for the purpose of comparing such record with records of programs administered by and in the possession of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in order to verify information where such verification is required by law or regulation or to identify violations or potential violations of law, whether criminal, civil, or regulatory, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule, or order issued pursuant thereto.

DEFENSE NUCLEAR AGENCY

REQUESTING RECORDS

Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notification and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifiers, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required, to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES

Certain blanket 'routine uses' of the records have been established, that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense, unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the records are published below, only once in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundancy, before the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every individual record system.

ROUTINE USE - LAW ENFORCEMENT

In the event that a system of records maintained by this component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE WHEN REQUESTING INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a federal, state or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE OF REQUESTED INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to a federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

ROUTINE USE - CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRIES

Disclosure from a system of records maintained by this component may be made to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual.

ROUTINE USE WITHIN THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to other components of the Department of Defense if necessary and relevant for the performance of a lawful function such as, but not limited to, personnel actions, personnel security actions and criminal investigations of the Component requesting the record.

ROUTINE USE - PRIVATE RELIEF LEGISLATION

Relevant information contained in all systems of records of the Department of Defense published on or before August 22, 1975, will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURES REQUIRED BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS

A record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to foreign law enforcement, security, investigatory, or administrative authorities in order to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred in international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of Department of Defense military and civilian personnel.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITIES

Any information normally contained in IRS Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to State and local taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements pursuant to Title 5, U.S.Code, Sections 5516, 5517, 5520, and only to those State and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member is or was subject to tax regardless of whether tax is or was withheld. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin Nr. 76-07.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO THE OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

A record from a system of records subject to the Privacy Act and maintained by this component may be disclosed to the Office of Personnel Management concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deductions, and any other information necessary for the Office of Personnel Management to carry out its legally authorized Government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO NARS (GSA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Service of the General Services Administration in records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

All systems of records relating to compensation, employment or retirement, or extracts therefrom, maintained by this Component may be disclosed as a routine use to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for the purpose of comparing such record with records of programs administered by and in the possession of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in order to verify information where such verification is required by law or regulation or to identify violations or potential violations of law, whether criminal, civil, or regulatory, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule, or order issued pursuant thereto.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

INTERNAL

To document the degree of exposure to radiation experienced by an individual; to measure quality of the radiation protection program. At AFRRI, name, grade/rank, department, room number and work phone will be used to print a current roster of personnel, for internal use in contacting personnel for official purposes.

EXTERNAL

To support legal or medical claims for or against the government; to provide exposure history to subsequent employers; to provide history to requesting individuals.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:

At AFRRI: 5' by 7' cards filed at reception desk, room 3113, 8' by 10 1/2' paper filed in rooms 1420 and 1422. Automated records are stored on magnetic tapes (for backup), disks in room 2436 and computer printouts in room 1422. At FCDNA, 8' by 10 1/2' papers are filed in a metal file cabinet in Bldg. 364. At Enewetak: 5' by 7' cards filed in a metal file cabinet in the Enewetak Commander's office.

Retrievability:

Alphabetical by last name of individual. Automated records are selectable retrievable on all fields within the record.

Safeguards:

AFRRI - Kept in a controlled access building which is protected by an instrusion alarm system. Card, paper forms and printouts are further secured in a locked cabinet. These files, when placed on a computer system, are protected by a user identification code (UIC) and password. Access is restricted to only those persons appointed by the SYSMANAGER to whom he has given the 'UIC-Password' combination. The password is changed periodically by the SYSMANAGER.

FCDNA - Controlled access building which is protected by an intrusion alarm system.

Enewetak - Locked and secured in Enewetak Commander's office.

Retention and disposal:

For employees - permanently. For visitors - retired after two years to record holding area for permanent retention. For foreign visitors, records are sent to State Depart ment for retention. All Enewetak records will be maintained permanently.

System manager(s) and address:

AFRRI and USUHS - Chairman, Safety Department, Armed Forces Radiobiology Research Institute, Bethesda, MD 20014.

JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF

REQUESTING RECORDS

Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notification and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifiers, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required, to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES

Certain blanket 'routine uses' of the records have been established, that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense, unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the records are published below, only once in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundancy, before the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every individual record system.

ROUTINE USE - LAW ENFORCEMENT

In the event that a system of records maintained by this component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE WHEN REQUESTING INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a federal, state or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE OF REQUESTED INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to a federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

ROUTINE USE - CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRIES

Disclosure from a system of records maintained by this component may be made to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual.

ROUTINE USE WITHIN THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to other components of the Department of Defense if necessary and relevant for the performance of a lawful function such as, but not limited to, personnel actions, personnel security actions and criminal investigations of the Component requesting the record.

ROUTINE USE - PRIVATE RELIEF LEGISLATION

Relevant information contained in all systems of records of the Department of Defense published on or before August 22, 1975, will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURES REQUIRED BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS

A record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to foreign law enforcement, security, investigatory, or administrative authorities in order to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred in international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of Department of Defense military and civilian personnel.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITIES

Any information normally contained in IRS Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to State and local taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements pursuant to Title 5, U.S.Code, Sections 5516, 5517, 5520, and only to those State and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member is or was subject to tax regardless of whether tax is or was withheld. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin Nr. 76-07.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO THE OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

REQUESTING RECORDS

Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notification and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifiers, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required, to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES

Certain blanket 'routine uses' of the records have been established, that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense, unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the records are published below, only once in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundancy, before the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every individual record system.

ROUTINE USE - LAW ENFORCEMENT

In the event that a system of records maintained by this component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE WHEN REQUESTING INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a federal, state or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE OF REQUESTED INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to a federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

ROUTINE USE - CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRIES

Disclosure from a system of records maintained by this component may be made to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual.

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to other components of the Department of Defense if necessary and relevant for the performance of a lawful function such as, but not limited to, personnel actions, personnel security actions and criminal investigations of the Component requesting the record.

ROUTINE USE - PRIVATE RELIEF LEGISLATION

Relevant information contained in all systems of records of the Department of Defense published on or before August 22, 1975, will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURES REQUIRED BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS

A record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to foreign law enforcement, security, investigatory, or administrative authorities in order to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred in international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of Department of Defense military and civilian personnel.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITIES

Any information normally contained in IRS Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to State and local taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements pursuant to Title 5, U.S.Code, Sections 5516, 5517, 5520, and only to those State and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member is or was subject to tax regardless of whether tax is or was withheld. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin Nr. 76-07.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO THE OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

A record from a system of records subject to the Privacy Act and maintained by this component may be disclosed to the Office of Personnel Management concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deductions, and any other information necessary for the Office of Personnel Management to carry out its legally authorized Government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO NARS (GSA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Service of the General Services Administration in records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

All systems of records relating to compensation, employment or retirement, or extracts therefrom, maintained by this Component may be disclosed as a routine use to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for the purpose of comparing such record with records of programs administered by and in the possession of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in order to verify information where such verification is required by law or regulation or to identify violations or potential violations of law, whether criminal, civil, or regulatory, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule, or order issued pursuant thereto.

ADDENDUM TO DCA STATION LIST DIRECTORY

The Director, DCA is also the Manager, National Communications System (NCS), the Chairman, U.S. Military Communications Electronics Board (USMCEB), and the Director, Worldwide Military Command and Communications System (WWMCCS) Systems Engineering. To the extent that the Director, DCA performs these other functions, the records systems described herein pertain to and are available to employees of these organizations, and may be corrected by means of the same process described for DCA files systems, unless specified otherwise herein.

With the exception of personnel records for Navy officers assigned to DCA activities in the Washington metropolitan area, the official military personnel records of military personnel assigned to DCA are maintained by the parent department and that department has the only complete official copies of the military members personnel records file. Responsibility for the completeness and accuracy of these files is invested in the military department. While the DCA commander or office chief may assist the military members in obtaining access or making corrections, DCA does not have the authority either to grant access or make corrections. The documents maintained by DCA on military personnel are copies of records provided by the military departments during the nomination process, copies of personnel correspondence generated during the members tenure in DCA, promotion rosters furnished by the military departments, and copies of orders published by the departments. A few documents are maintained as a result of requirements imposed by the departments (leave forms for Army and Air Force personnel and SIDPERS for Army personnel).

In the case of Navy officers in the Washington area, DCA maintains the Navy Officers service records and can grant access and make corrections within the purview of NAVPERS 15791, Bureau of Naval Personnel Manual.

DEFENSE INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

REQUESTING RECORDS

Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notification and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifiers, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required, to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES

Certain blanket 'routine uses' of the records have been established, that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense, unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the records are published below, only once in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundancy, before the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every individual record system.

ROUTINE USE - LAW ENFORCEMENT

In the event that a system of records maintained by this component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE WHEN REQUESTING INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a federal, state or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE OF REQUESTED INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to a federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

ROUTINE USE - CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRIES

Disclosure from a system of records maintained by this component may be made to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual.

ROUTINE USE WITHIN THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to other components of the Department of Defense if necessary and relevant for the performance of a lawful function such as, but not limited to, personnel actions, personnel security actions and criminal investigations of the Component requesting the record.

ROUTINE USE - PRIVATE RELIEF LEGISLATION

Relevant information contained in all systems of records of the Department of Defense published on or before August 22, 1975, will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURES REQUIRED BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS

A record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to foreign law enforcement, security, investigatory, or administrative authorities in order to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred in international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of Department of Defense military and civilian personnel.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITIES

Any information normally contained in IRS Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to State and local taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements pursuant to Title 5, U.S.Code, Sections 5516, 5517, 5520, and only to those State and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member is or was subject to tax regardless of whether tax is or was withheld. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin Nr. 76-07.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO THE OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

A record from a system of records subject to the Privacy Act and maintained by this component may be disclosed to the Office of Personnel Management concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deductions, and any other information necessary for the Office of Personnel Management to carry out its legally authorized Government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO NARS (GSA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Service of the General Services Administration in records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

All systems of records relating to compensation, employment or retirement, or extracts therefrom, maintained by this Component may be disclosed as a routine use to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for the purpose of comparing such record with records of programs administered by and in the possession of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in order to verify information where such verification is required by law or regulation or to identify violations or potential violations of law, whether criminal, civil, or regulatory, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule, or order issued pursuant thereto.

L DIA 0005

System name:

Personnel Management Information System (PMIS).

System location:

Defense Intelligence Agency, Washington, D.C. 20301.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:

Current and former military and civilian employees of DIA.

Categories of records in the system:

This system consists of a variety of personnel, security, education, training and financial employment related records.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

Pursuant to the authority contained in the National Security Act of 1947, 10 U.S.C. 133 d, the Secretary of Defense issued Department of Defense Directive 5105.21 of August 1, 1961, super- seded by Department of Defense Directive 5105.21 of May 19, 1977, creating the Defense Intel- ligence Agency as a separate Agency of the Department of Defense under his direction and herein charged the Agency's Director with the responsibility for the maintenance of necessary and appropriate records.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

Records are used by staff, administrative and operating officials to: prepare individual administrative transactions; make decisions on the rights, benefits, entitlements and the utilization of individuals; provide a data source for the productions of reports, statistical surveys, rosters, documentation and studies required for the orderly personnel administration with DIA. Information will be disclosed to such other federal agencies, state and local governments, as may have a legitimate use for such information and which agrees to apply appropriate safeguards to protect data so provided and which is consistent with the conditions or reasonable expectations of use and disclosure under which the information was provided, collected or obtained.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:

Automated, maintained on magnetic tape and manual in paper files and microfilms.

Retrievability:

By name or social security account number.

Safeguards:

Records are maintained in a building protected by security guards and are stored in vaults, safes or locked cabinets and are accessible only to authorized personnel who are properly screened, cleared and trained in the protection of privacy information.

Retention and disposal:

Paper files are destroyed when employment with the Agency ceases. Microfilm records are destroyed when replaced with an updated film and magnetic tape files are retained indefi- nitely as a permanent record.

UNITED STATES MARINE CORPS

HOW SYSTEMS OF RECORDS ARE ARRANGED. In the Marine Corps, records are categorized by subject series. Each series has assigned a subject title, a three-letter prefix and followed by a five-digit number. For Example, the systems of records containing pay data may be found in the Fiscal/Disbursing series (MFDOOOOX). The letter M stands for Marine Corps; the next two letters indicate that the records are pay related; and the following five digit number is a further breakdown of the series for identification purposes.

HOW TO USE THE INDEX GUIDE. The system of records maintained by the Marine Corps are contained within the subject series that are listed below. This list identified each series in the order they appear in this compilation. Use the list to identify subject areas of interest. Having done so, use the appropriate system identification series to locate the systems of records grouping in which you are interested.

SUBJECT SERIES	SYSTEM IDENTIFICATION SERIES
Aviation	MAAOOOOX
Fiscal/Disbursing (Matters relating to pay)	MFDOOOOX
Historical	MHDOOOOX
Installations and Logistics	MILOOOOX
Intelligence (Includes POW/MIS Files)	MINOOOOX
Judge Advocate/Legal Matters	MJAOOOOX
Miscellaneous (Admin Matters)	MMCOOOOX
Manpower/Personnel	MMNOOOOX
Training	MMTOOOOX
Reserve	MRSOOOOX
Telecommunications/Telephone Billing	MTEOOOOX

REQUESTING RECORDS

Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notification and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifiers, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required, to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES

Certain blanket 'routine uses' of the records have been established, that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense, unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the records are published below, only once in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundancy, before the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every individual record system.

ROUTINE USE - LAW ENFORCEMENT

In the event that a system of records maintained by this component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE WHEN REQUESTING INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a federal, state or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE OF REQUESTED INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to a federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

ROUTINE USE - CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRIES

Disclosure from a system of records maintained by this component may be made to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual.

ROUTINE USE WITHIN THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to other components of the Department of Defense if necessary and relevant for the performance of a lawful function such as, but not limited to, personnel actions, personnel security actions and criminal investigations of the Component requesting the record.

ROUTINE USE - PRIVATE RELIEF LEGISLATION

Relevant information contained in all systems of records of the Department of Defense published on or before August 22, 1975, will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB

Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURES REQUIRED BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS

A record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to foreign law enforcement, security, investigatory, or administrative authorities in order to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred in international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of Department of Defense military and civilian personnel.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITIES

Any information normally contained in IRS Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to State and local taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements pursuant to Title 5, U.S.Code, Sections 5516, 5517, 5520, and only to those State and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member is or was subject to tax regardless of whether tax is or was withheld. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin Nr. 76-07.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO THE OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

A record from a system of records subject to the Privacy Act and maintained by this component may be disclosed to the Office of Personnel Management concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deductions, and any other information necessary for the Office of Personnel Management to carry out its legally authorized Government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO NARS (GSA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Service of the General Services Administration in records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

All systems of records relating to compensation, employment or retirement, or extracts therefrom, maintained by this Component may be disclosed as a routine use to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for the purpose of comparing such record with records of programs administered by and in the possession of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in order to verify information where such verification is required by law or regulation or to identify violations or potential violations of law, whether criminal, civil, or regulatory, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule, or order issued pursuant thereto.

The MMS master files consist of a complete magnetic record for each Marine serving on active duty for a period in excess of 30 days. The Remote Entry Data Display Terminal (REDDT) is a subsystem of MMS. It has the capability to directly access an extract of the master file. The procedure used to establish the initial computer record and add the individual to the Marine Corps strength is the accession process. The accession of recruits is accomplished through the Recruit Accession Management Subsystem (RAMS). The Commissioning Accession Management Subsystem (CAMS) is designed to access all officer records into JUMPS/MMS. Accession/ reaccession of all nonrecruit enlisted records is accomplished through the Headquarters Accession Management Subsystem (HAMS) at Headquarters, U S Marine Corps. The Accession Transcription Form (ATF) is an OCR form which contains information extracted from the enlistment contract and transfer/assignment to active duty orders. The ATF is completed and processed to establish the computer record. The Manpower Management Information System (MMIS) consists of models and processes within MMS These models and processes support manpower planners and programmers to optimize assignments to unaccompanied overseas tours, predict enlisted population by grade and military occupational specialty (MOS) and to test various policies related to unrestricted officer promotion planning.

Some manual files containing substantiating documents and other data relative to each member's JUMPS/MMS record are maintained. These file folders may contain any part of the JUMPS/MMS record and any one or more of the following documents: Military Pay Record, Military Payroll Money List, Military Pay Voucher, Certificate for Performance of Hazardous Duty, Application for Arrears in Pay, Cash Collection Voucher, Authorization/Designation for Emergency Pay and Allowances, Wage and Tax Statement, Employees Withholding Exemption Certificate (IRS W-4), Employees Withholding Exemption Certificate (IRS W-4E), Notice of Levy, General Accounting Office Notice of Exemption, Dependency Certificate (Wife or Child Under 21 Years), Dependency Certificate (Mother or Father), Dependency Certificate (Unmarried Child Over 21 Years), Dependency Application, Clothing Checkage, Statement to Substantiate Payment of Family Separation Allowance, Government Property Checkage, Personal Financial Records, Unit Diary, Dependent Travel Record, Allotment/Bond Authorization, Certificate for Cost of Living and/or Housing Allowance, Certificate for Temporary Lodging Allowance, Removal of Mark of Desertion, Field Rations Certificate, Liquidation of Indebtedness, Initial Uniform Allowance for Officers, Additional Uniform Allowance for Officers, Excess Weight-Household Goods Shipment, Hospital Rations Checkage, Excess Expense Involving Movement of House Trailer, Transportation Checkage, Meal Ticket Checkage, Advance Pay, Advance Pay and Allowances, Discharge Gratuity, Combat Arms Bonus, Health Care Coverage, Government Quarters Termination and Assignment. Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:

Data is recorded on magnetic records and discs, punch cards, computer printouts, microform, file folders, and other documents.

Retrievability:

The data contained in magnetic records can be displayed on cathode-ray tubes, it can be computer printed on paper, and it can be converted to microform for information retrieval; the data in the supporting file folders and other manual records is retrieved manually. Computerized and conventional indices are required to retrieve individual records from the system. Normally, all types of records are retrieved by Social Security Number and name.

Safeguards:

Building management employs security guards; building is locked nights and holidays. Authorized personnel may enter and leave the building during nonworking hours but must sign in and out. Records are maintained in areas accessible only to authorized personnel that are properly screened, cleared and trained.

Access to personal information is limited to authorized personnel with a need-to-know. Access is restricted to specific applications programs, records, and files to which personnel have a specific and recorded need-to-know. Online data sets (both tape and disc) pertaining to personal information are password protected, areas are controlled and access lists are used. The files are also protected at a level appropriate to the type of information being processed.

Retention and disposal:

Magnetic records are maintained on all Marine Corps personnel while they are in service, and for a period of 4 months after they are separated from the service. Paper and film records are maintained for a period of 10 years after the final transaction. End calendar and fiscal year 'snapshots' of the MMS data base are maintained indefinitely in magnetic form at Headquarters, U. S. Marine Corps.

System manager(s) and address:

Commandant of the Marine Corps, Headquarters U S Marine Corps, Washington, D C 20380.

Notification procedure:

Requests from individuals for information concerning pay related matters should be addressed to the Commandant of the Marine Corps (Code FD). Requests from individuals for information concerning personnel matters should be addressed to the Commandant of the Marine Corps (Code MP).

Requesting individual must supply full name and Social Security Number.

The requester may visit the Marine Corps Finance Center, 1500 East Bannister Road, Kansas City, Missouri 64197 to obtain information on whether the system contains records pertaining to him or her.

In order to personally visit the above address and obtain information, individuals must present a military identification card, a driver's license, or other suitable proof of identity

Record access procedures:

Information on JUMPS may be obtained from the member's local disbursing officer. Information on MMS may be obtained from the member's immediate commanding officer. Requests for information from persons no longer in service should be signed by the person requesting the information. Dates of service, Social Security Number, and full name of requester should be printed or typed on the request. It should be sent to the Marine Corps Finance Center, 1500 East Bannister Road, Kansas City, Missouri 64197.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:

The allotment system contains all active allotments and limited (12 months) stop history for each active duty, retired, and Fleet Marine Corps Reserve (FMCR) member who authorized an allotment from his pay and allowances.

Categories of records in the system:

The allotment file contains allotments authorized by the Marines concerned, as provided under instructions issued by the Secretary of Defense.

The B&A automated system is made up of records which contain the following fields (data elements and data sets): Identification Number (Social Security Number (SSN)); Initials of Name (Last, First, Middle); Rank/Category; Last Name and Suffix; Last Pay Date; First Pay Date; Work Date; Amount; Term (in months); Account/Policy Number; Authority/Date/Remark; Bond Owner Name; Bond Owner SSN: Co-owner Beneficiary Flag; Co-owner or Beneficiary Name; Co-owner or Beneficiary SSN; Authority/Date/Remark; Name of Recipient; Street Address/Post Office Box; City and State/Country; Geographic Code (City, State/Country); Zip Code; Authority/Date/Remark.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

Title 37, U $ Code. The authority for continuing deduction for garnishment of pay is outlined in section 459 of Public Law 93-647.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

The purpose of the system is to provide for the payment of allotments and for the issuance, cancellation, of U S Treasury checks and savings bonds as authorized by appropriate directives. The data obtained from the system provides for the control and ultimate disposition of all treasury checks and savings bonds prepared. Allows for the collection of appropriate data, to render an accurate accounting of public funds expended or collected as required by the Navy Comptroller Manual. The allotment file is utilized by the Joint Uniform Military Pay System/ Manpower Management System (JUMPS/MMS) and Retired Pay systems to calculate the monies due active duty, retired, and FMCR members of the U S Marine Corps.

The allotment class and dollar value are displayed on the JUMPS Leave and Earnings Statement (LES) as issued. Copies of the LES are distributed as follows:

Original (white) - Disbursing Officer (DO) having custody of the Personal Financial Record.
Duplicate (yellow) - furnished the Marine concerned.
Triplicate (pink) - furnished the Commanding Officer (CO) for retention on the Marine's service record.
For permanent record retention purposes, one copy will be filed at the MCFC in microform.
The allotment information concerning first, last payment dates, term (if applicable), amount, purpose, and allottee is furnished the CO and DO on an annual basis for audit purposes. This information is prepared as outlined in paragraph 70304, JUMPS Field Procedures Manual.
The total dollar value of active allotments is furnished each retired and FMCR Marine each time a new statement of his account card is prepared.

Verification and/or information concerning a specific allotment may be released (as requested) to the following:

Marine concerned.
Marine's CO
Marine's DO
Recipient of the allotment.
Treasury Department.
Federal Reserve Bank.
Federal Bureau of Investigation.
Naval Audit Service.
General Accounting Office.
Postal Inspectors.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:

Data is recorded on magnetic records, punch cards, computer printouts, microform, file folders, and other documents.

Retrievability:

The data contained in magnetic records can be displayed on cathode-ray tubes, it can be computer printed on paper, and it can be converted to microform for information retrieval; the data in the supporting file folders and other manual records is retrieved manually. Normally all types of records are retrieved by SSN and name.

Safeguards:

The Allotment Division is locked during nonduty hours, as well as the building being under security guard protection. Files within the division are accessible only to authorized personnel.

Retention and disposal:

Magnetic records are maintained by MCASC on all active allotments during the life of the allotment and for a period of 12 months after the allotment has been stopped. Paper and microform files relating to the Allotment Division files are disposed of as directed by SECNAVINST P5212.53.

System manager(s) and address:

Commandant of the Marine Corps (Code FD), Headquarters, U S Marine Corps, Washington, D C 20380.

Notification procedure:

Individual requests for information should be addressed to the Marine Corps Finance Center, Allotment Division, Kansas City, Missouri 64197.

Requests for information must contain member's SSN, name, military service number (if applicable), and any other pertinent data concerning the information desired.

A person may visit any Marine Corps disbursing office to find out if the system contains records pertaining to him or her.

For personal visits the requester must present a military identification card or copy of an Armed Forces of United States Report of Separation from Active Duty (DD Form 214 (MC)) for separated personnel.

Record access procedures:

Mailing address for the Allotment Division is available in DODPM, Marine Corps Order (MCO) P7220.31, and the NAVTELCOMINST 2300.14 (Plain Language Address Directory).

Contesting record procedures:

The agency's rules for access to records and for contesting contents and appealing initial determinations by individual concerned may be obtained from the SYSMANAGER

Information pertaining to an individual who has active allotments is affected by unit diary input concerning name, or SSN changes, and to ensure allotments are stopped when a Marine is reported to be discharged or in a desertion status. Also, member's status codes are changed by unit diary or Retired Pay input when the Marine is transferred to the FMCR or Retired List.

Record source categories:

The input of data from allotment/bond authorizations, other scannable documents, magnetic tapes received from the Satellite Data Processing Installations, and computer interfaces with the JUMPS/MMS and the Retired Pay systems are the principle sources of the information contained in the B&A automated system.

Titles 10 and 37, U S Code

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

Central Accounts Division clerks and analysts use these data to process payments and to answer inquiries concerning payments, received from Marine Reservists, Internal Revenue Service, Welfare agencies, and the Commandant of the Marine Corps.

Examination Division clerks use these data to verify proper payment and to process old pay inquiries.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:

Data are recorded on magnetic records, punch cards, computer printouts, microform, file folders, and other documents.

Retrievability:

The data contained in magnetic records can be coimputer printed on paper and it can be converted to microform for information retrieval; the data in the supporting file folders and other manual records are retrieved manually. Normally all types of records are retrieved by SSN/Name/ Reporting Unit Code.

Safeguards:

Building employs security guards. Records are maintained in areas accessible only to personnel working there and are kept in file desks made for that purpose for 6 months and in DIBOLD vertical file for 12 months after which they are transferred to the Examination Division.

Retention and disposal:

Magnetic records are maintained by MCASC on all active Reservists; they are retained for a period of 4 months after the individual Marine ceases to be active.

Paper and microform records are held for 4 years, 6 months at the Center, thereafter they are retired to a Federal Records Center in accordance with Secretary of the Navy Instruction P5212.5.

System name:

Automated Systematic Recruiting Support System (ASRSS)

System location:

The system will be operated at each Recruiting Station, District Headquarters, and Marine Corps Recruit Depot within the Marine Corps. See organizational elements of the U. S. Marine Corps as listed in the Directory of the Department of the Navy Activities.

Categories of individuals covered by the system:

All Marine Corps Regular and Reserve recruits.

Categories of records in the system:

File contains information voluntarily provided by recruits as contained on the Application for Enlistment - Armed Forces of the United States.

Authority for maintenance of the system:

Title 10, U. S. Code 301, Departmental Regulations

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

Marine Corps Recruiting Stations - Ensure that a member of the Delayed Entry Pool is shipped to Marine Corps Recruit Depot on the appropriate date. Ensure that recruits are not retained in the Delayed Entry Pool longer than the authorized period. Give proper credit, e.g., Meritorious Appointment to Private First Class, to recruits who have referred other enlistees to the Marine Corps. Keep track of recruits who successfully complete recruit training for subsequent assistance as recruiter aides while on recruit leave.

Marine Corps District Headquarters - Monitor the status of accessions by category, e.g., Mental Group; losses from the Delayed Entry Program recruiter performance by 'waiver code.'

Marine Corps Recruit Depot - Ensure that those recruits shipped from various recruiting stations and Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Stations (AFEES) arrive at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot on schedule. Trace recruiter malpractice allegations to the proper source.

Headquarters, U. S. Marine Corps - Monitor accessions by program option/guarantee. Match total accessions throughout the country to demographic data available through the Recruit Market Network. Track Reserve accessions by Reserve unit, Military Occupational Specialty (MOS), and availability for active service training. Respond to Congressional inquiries on individual cases in a timely, accurate manner.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage:

The file will be stored via on-line magnetic disk with backup on magnetic tape. Backup audit trail record will be available at the point-of-entry.

Retrievability:

Standard reports and ad hoc retrievals are generated from remote terminals using a data base management system. Additionally, updates and record browsing may be accomplished in the interactive mode through keying Social Security Number.

Safeguards:

Records are maintained in areas accessible only to authorized personnel that are properly screened, cleared, and trained.

'Hard copy' or paper output from the system is stored in locked containers.

System software contains user passwords to lock out unauthorized access.

Software contains partitions to limit access to appropriate organizational level.

Retention and disposal:

On-line magnetic records will be maintained for one year after completion of recruit training. Records are then retired to a 'history file' where they will be retained for a period of four (4) years and then destroyed.

System manager(s) and address:

Commandant of the Marine Corps (Attn: Deputy Chief of Staff for Manpower), Headquarters, U. S. Marine Corps, Washington, D. C. 20380.

Notification procedure:

Requests from individuals for information concerning their ASRSS records should be addressed to the Commandant of the Marine Corps (Code MPI-40), U. S. Marine Corps, Washington, D. C. 20380. Requesting individual should supply full name and Social Security Number.

The requester may also visit any Marine Corps Recruiting Station to determine whether ASRSS contains records pertaining to him or her. In order to personally visit a Recruiting Station and obtain information, individuals must present proper identification such as military identification, if a service member, driver's license, or some other suitable proof of identity.

Record access procedures:

The agency's rules for access to records may be obtained from the system manager.

Contesting record procedures:

The agency's rules for contesting contents and appealing initial determination by the individual concerned may be obtained from the system manager.

Record source categories:

REQUESTING RECORDS

Records are retrieved by name or by some other personal identifier. It is therefore especially important for expeditious service when requesting a record that particular attention be provided to the Notification and/or Access Procedures of the particular record system involved so as to furnish the required personal identifiers, or any other pertinent personal information as may be required, to locate and retrieve the record.

BLANKET ROUTINE USES

Certain blanket 'routine uses' of the records have been established, that are applicable to every record system maintained within the Department of Defense, unless specifically stated otherwise within a particular record system. These additional blanket routine uses of the records are published below, only once in the interest of simplicity, economy and to avoid redundancy, before the individual record system notices begin rather than repeating them in every individual record system.

ROUTINE USE - LAW ENFORCEMENT

In the event that a system of records maintained by this component to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE WHEN REQUESTING INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to a federal, state or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to a component decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE OF REQUESTED INFORMATION

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed to a federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

ROUTINE USE - CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRIES

Disclosure from a system of records maintained by this component may be made to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual.

ROUTINE USE WITHIN THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to other components of the Department of Defense if necessary and relevant for the performance of a lawful function such as, but not limited to, personnel actions, personnel security actions and criminal investigations of the Component requesting the record.

ROUTINE USE - PRIVATE RELIEF LEGISLATION

Relevant information contained in all systems of records of the Department of Defense published on or before August 22, 1975, will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURES REQUIRED BY INTERNATIONAL AGREEMENTS

A record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to foreign law enforcement, security, investigatory, or administrative authorities in order to comply with requirements imposed by, or to claim rights conferred in international agreements and arrangements including those regulating the stationing and status in foreign countries of Department of Defense military and civilian personnel.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO STATE AND LOCAL TAXING AUTHORITIES

Any information normally contained in IRS Form W-2 which is maintained in a record from a system of records maintained by this Component may be disclosed to State and local taxing authorities with which the Secretary of the Treasury has entered into agreements pursuant to Title 5, U.S.Code, Sections 5516, 5517, 5520, and only to those State and local taxing authorities for which an employee or military member is or was subject to tax regardless of whether tax is or was withheld. This routine use is in accordance with Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual Bulletin Nr. 76-07.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO THE OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

A record from a system of records subject to the Privacy Act and maintained by this component may be disclosed to the Office of Personnel Management concerning information on pay and leave, benefits, retirement deductions, and any other information necessary for the Office of Personnel Management to carry out its legally authorized Government-wide personnel management functions and studies.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION TO NARS (GSA)

A record from a system of records maintained by this component may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Service of the General Services Administration in records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

ROUTINE USE - DISCLOSURE TO DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

All systems of records relating to compensation, employment or retirement, or extracts therefrom, maintained by this Component may be disclosed as a routine use to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for the purpose of comparing such record with records of programs administered by and in the possession of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in order to verify information where such verification is required by law or regulation or to identify violations or potential violations of law, whether criminal, civil, or regulatory, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule, or order issued pursuant thereto.
